W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

CONDUCTED BY MRS. M. L. HOBBS.

Who is to Blame?

The Lord of Hosts has asked this question. God said, "Are not my ways equal and yours unequal?"

And then he makes a declaration:

"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

Now for the last thirty years this nation has sown (licensed) distilleries, breweries, saloons, dives, slums and brothels, and now we are reaping drunkards, assassins, robbers, anarchists and general plunderers as a result of said sowing (legislation). Who is to blame?

The two old parties who have ruled this nation for the last thirty years.

And now the people are beginning to wake up to find their country ruined, spoiled by violence, ruled by oppressors because they would not hearken to the counsels of the Lord of hosts. Who is to blame?

The people. Why? Because seeing they would not see. Their old parties whom they serve had been tried and proved to be liars, thieves and robbers. By their votes they kept in power and buried their talent (their better judgment) and sowed that grain that they knew would bring forth tares and eternal disgrace.

And thus those representatives failed to represent anything but the interest of whisky trusts, railroad monopolies, rings, combines and trusts of every kind and kin. And as a result disaster and pestilence is upon us. Banks crashing, trusts and combines smashing, oppressors lashing and starving men, and women dashing out their loved one's brains by loss of reason, being driven to despair.

Something to Think About in These Days of Financial Stringency.

[From the New England Evangelist.]

Who pays the bills? Who feeds the drunkard's children? Who supports the beggarly tramps, who having wasted their money in drink, wander about the country? Who repairs the losses caused by the failure of intemperate merchants and reckless and half-intoxicated

Correct Financiering.

The following letter to the Indianapolis Sentinel so exactly utters the true belief of most of the Western Democrats, that the COURIER takes pleasure in laying it before its readers. Mr. Brunt, however, makes one mistake, "International bimetallism" is in no sense desirable—any more than international interference with any of the internal affairs of this country by the despotisms of effete Europe.

America is able to establish an American policy in finance as well as in any other function of government, and the sooner this is done the better it will be for the common mass of the People.

THE FREE COINAGE QUES-

TION.

To the Editor—Sir: In yours of the 1st inst. you ask me and other free coinage Democrats to "read the platform." As you well know that plank of the Chicago platform was dictated by anti-silver democrats (or, in other words, by New York,) who have dictated every platform and candidate since the war, and it was made to fit the candidate, whether Cleveland or Hill. I ask you to read the Democratic state and district platforms adopted by all the states west of Washington City since 1876, and see if the Cleveland-Sherman policy is in accord with the views expressed in them. You will find a large majority of them declare for free coinage, at least four-fifths, where the subject is mentioned.

Again, referring to the Chicago platform, is there in it anything favoring issuing gold bonds as basis for silver coinage, or for any purpose whatever?

True, it demands the repeal of the Sherman purchasing clause, and to this all silver men were in hearty accord if they could get something better. When this law was enacted it was supported by the silver advocates, the friends of silver, as the best thing to be obtained, a measure of relief until the people could be heard. It was supported by the Sherman-Cleveland gold party because they believed (and they were right in their belief) that the coining of so many said, "We did not know anything of it." The probable fact is their hands were crossed with gold, and still we are told "to wait," that "Cleveland's policy is rapidly bringing England to terms."

We by this false policy are to-day placed in the same relative position as Ireland, a dependency to Great Britain. We must wait the pleasure of a government led by a millionaire lord, the son-in-law of a Rothschild, and why? That we may be able to continue to borrow their money, when every dollar of foreign money borrowed by this country, or invested in this country, is a leech attached to our bosom, that is sucking the life blood of the nation and transporting it beyond the sea. Let us have a system of our own and make our own money, dig the metal from our mines, base our paper currency upon it and all wealth, and increase the circulation and decrease the standard until property and labor stand on an equal basis with money. Do this instead of borrowing of England. English investments in the United States are not desirable, and American securities payable in gold and owned in England are ruinously large, but must be paid. Give Shylock his pound of flesh, but let it stop at that. But if we wait for the Cleveland-Sherman gold men to "bring England to terms," other than England's terms, we will be waiting when the mighty angel shall set his right foot upon the sea and his left foot on the earth and swear that "time shall be no longer."

International bimetallism is desirable, but not necessary, and while waiting for it and opposing "the further infusion of silver into our currency," the creditor class of our own country will absorb all the wealth of the country, and leave us a nation of wage-slaves ruled over by a money oligarchy supported by an army of paid hirelings.

Yours truly, JOHN R. BRUNT.
